May Limit Evidence of Defense in Haywood Case.

PROSECUTION IS SUSTAINED

Contention That Defense Had Not Laid Proper Foundation for Certain Evidence Regarding Counter Conspiracy Held to Be Valid by Court.

Boise, Ida., June 28.-A ruling made by Judge Wood while Edward Boyce, for years the leader of the Western Federation of Miners and now a wealthy mine owner of the Coeur d'Alenes, was testifying in behalf of William D. Haywood, may materially limit the showing of the defense as to the existence of the counter conspiracy against Haywood and his assoclates, which it alleges.

James H. Hawley for the state objected to a general question as to the policy and practice of mine owners throughout the West in blacklisting union miners and in the argument that followed Clarence Darrow for the defense claimed the same latitude in proving counter conspiracy that the state enjoyed in showing a con-

Mr. Hawley contended that the state had directly shown the existence of a conspiracy by Harry Orchard, and by so doing had laid the foundation for and made the connection of all the evidence subsequently offered on the subject. He said the defense was trying to show a counter conspiracy by proving various isolated instances and certain general conditions none of which was connected with the case and for none of which a proper foundation had been laid.

In ruling the court accepted in part the contention of the prosecution and limited the proof of the defense along these lines to events in Colorado and the Coeur d'Alenes connected with the case as now established.

Ed Boyce was the principal witness and his testimony was chiefly devoted to the history, purposes and work of the Western Federation of Miners. He denied the existence of an "inner circle" or that there had ever been a conspiracy in the organization to do an illegal act.

Advocated Rifle Clubs.

The chief importance of Boyce's cross-examination was the production of a speech by him at the convention of the federation held in Salt Lake in 1898, in which he said every union should have a rifle club, every member a rifle, so that the federation could march 25,000 armed men in the ranks

Mr. Boyce would not agree with the accuracy of the quotation, but saying that the sentiment was correct, declared with spirit that when he spoke the words imputed to him he had in mind the misconduct of state troops in Colorado, the use of troops elsewhere against the federation and the constitutional right of all citizens to bear arms, which was as much the right of the miner as of the aristocrat.

William Easterly, one of the most important witnesses in the case, was called just before adjournment for the day. He occupied the witness chair long enough, however, to directly deny the statements of Orchard charging him with criminal misconduct in Colorado. He denied that he had ever discussed the Vindicator or any other plot with Orchard or that he had helped Orchard in experiments for the device that blew up the Vindicator mine and denied that he and Orchard had discussed the Vindicator matter or any subject with Moyer and Hayall wood at federation headquarters in

FACES SERIOUS ORDEAL.

Premier Clemenceau Confronted by a Crisis in His Career.

Paris, June 28 .- The premier, Eugene Clemenceau, may scon have to face one of the most serious ordeals of his remarkable career. All the extreme Left groups with which he has been affiliated in the past are now on the warpath because as they allege he has turned his back on his former as sociates and since May 1 has resorted to methods of repression characteristic of the reactionaries. The entire representation in the rebellious region of the South irrespective of party is also against him. Almost a score of interpellations have been introduced in the chamber of deputies covering the general policy of the government, the employment of troops, the bloodshed in the South and the other matters of vital importance and M. Blanc, Unified Socialist, was dissuaded only with difficulty by his colleagues from demanding M. Clemenceau's impeach-

But the premier's resourcefulness is traditional. He has been the hero of so many parliamentary battles that his friends believe he will turn the tables on his enemies and trimuph again. The Moderate Republicans indorse his course and many members of the Right, although they opposed him per sonally, probably will vote in the present crisis to sustain the ministry

EXPLOSION IN A THEATER

Results in the Death of Hundreds of Chinese.

Victoria, B. C., June 28.-A horrible holocaust is reported in mail advices from Hongkong, where 500 Chinese of the audience of a Chinese theater and the actors were burned to death when the theater was destroyed by fire. The flames spread rapidly and the building collapsed, blocking the entrance with burning debris. The origin of the fire is said to have been due to the igniting of explosives concealed under the floor of the theater, the fire following the explosion.

Wife Murderer Executed.

Russian Revolutionists Resurrect Old Organization.

AFTER CZAR AND PREMIER

Attempts on the Life of the Emperor and His Prime Minister Are Being Planned by the Terrorists-Important Robbery Also Contemplated.

St. Petersburg, June 28.-It has been learned from Russian revolutionary sources that the Social Revolutionary party a month ago revived the old terrorist organization which had been suffered to lapse since the congress held in Finland during the spring of 1906 and placed Gregory Gerschunin, who escaped from Siberia last year and eventually reached New York, and Savanikoff, who escaped from Sebastopol in 1905, the best organizers of the party, in charge. The sum of $40,000 monthly was assigned for espionage, the preparation of bombs and so on from the party treasury, which recently received over $400,000 from the cashier of the subtreasury of Samarkand, a Social Revolutionist who embezzled $480,000 and escaped abroad. The headquarters of the terrorists as usual are located outside of Russia.

Though an attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin while entering or leaving the Tauride palace is believed to have been feasible, the terrorists abstained from activity while parliament was in session and were in no way connected with the late regicide plot which a representative of the party disavowed from the tribune of the lower house of parliament. The recent crimes, it is added, were the work of the so-called "local flying de tachments," operating independently of the main organization.

It is reported that the terrorists are now contemplating attempts against Premier Stolypin and Emperor Nich tee of the party. It is also reported that the terrorists are planning an imamount of booty is expected.

The openness with which these plans are discussed astonishes foreigners who are not acquainted with the methods of the organization

PASSES DOLLAR MARK.

Sudden Rise in the Price of Wheat in Chicago.

Chicago, June 28.-Wheat went above the dollar mark Thursday, the September option selling on the floor of the Board of Trade for $1.00 and the December delivery for $1.031/4. The sharp advance was unexpected to the building the crowd cheered him and majority of traders and it came with startling suddenness. The advance was caused by the report of a statistician who last April estimated that the winter wheat crop would amount to 325,000,000 bushels. This estimate was based on the expectation that Kansas would produce 60,000,000 bushels. A supplemental report was issued by the statistican declaring that the crop will probably fall 10,000,000 bushels below this amount because of the damage sustained in Kansas.

This statement caused shorts t cover actively and as there was but little wheat for sale the price advanced rapidly. Much of the advance was lost because of profit taking sales the final quotations for September and December being respectively 99 cents

Moore Calls Heney a Rascal and Latter Calls Moore a Liar.

San Francisco, June 28.-Proceedings before Judge Lawler in the indictment cases were enlivened by Francis L. Heney calling A. A. Moore a liar after Moore had called him a rascal.

The incident occurred during argument on the alleged defect in the records of Judge Graham's court chronicling the empanelment of the grand

Heney argued that it was quite proper for Clerk Trefts to make the correction on his own responsibility. Stanley Moore held that the minutes could only be changed on authority of

CHURCHMAN AND DIPLOMA

Cardinal Merry del Val, Papal Secretary of State.

The present year has been a very busy one for the papal secretary of state, Rafael Cardinal Merry del Val The difficulties of the Roman Catholic church in France and the agitation between clericals and anticlericals in Spain and other controversies which have called for the exercise of unusual discretion, have imposed heavy burdens of anxiety upon the man who occupies a post so close to the pope and must assume responsibilities for much of the latter's policy. The cardinal is a young man to have reached so high a station in the hierarchy of his church. He succeeded the veteran and courtly minister of Leo XIII., Cardinal Rampolla, when but thirty-eight years of age.

CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL.

He will be forty-two this autumn, and was born while his father was secretary of the Spanish embassy in London. On his mother's side he inherits British blood, and he was educated in England, at Baylis House, Clough, and at St. Cuthbert's Roman Catholic college, Ushaw, near Durham. He completed his studies on the continent. Residence in Spain, England, Austria, Italy and France has given him intimate knowledge of those countries and he converses in their respective languages with perfect fluency. He was elevated to the cardinalate, with the title of Santa Prassede, by Pope Pius X. and was installed in the important in the evening, July 4th, between the of the episodes in which the cardinal their publication. STEVE ADAMS.

Alleged Partner In Crime of the "Murder Machine," Harry Orchard.

According to the story told on the witness stand by Harry Orchard in the Haywood trial in Idaho one of his principal partners in crime was Steve Adams, and the latter is alleged to have made a confession, which he afterward repudiated. The prosecution produced Adams in court in order that Orchard might identify him as the man who, he alleged, had been assigned by the "inner circle" of the Western Fedreturns to this city the first of next eration of Miners to help "get" Bradley in San Francisco. Adams glared an-ett, J. F. and Mrs. Pitt, Miss Mabel grily at Orchard when the two faced each other in court. According to Orchard's testimony Adams was sent to Moines about the fifteenth of June and Bradley, but got into trouble in Utah San Francisco by Haywood to kill have been traveling through the west and telegraphed Haywood at Denver asking him for $75. The testimony spent six days taking in the beauties of an important part of the programme of Orchard's crimes with Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone.

Pen Economy.

The millionaire before filling his ink well dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. "Thus," he said, "I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. A Steady Trade.

There were only three houses in the little hamlet on Cape Cod, but an orator from a nearby summer colony was minded to rouse the civic conscience by declaring that trade was the beginning of wisdom, "And," said he, "I assure you that it is not capital half so much as it is initiative that is needed in a place like this."

The Great White Shark.

The man eating fish par excellence is the great white shark. It is otherwise known by the name of man eater. Occasionally specimens are seen on both coasts of the United States, though its more customary habitat is in tropical able to swallow a man whole. This fact is proved by an experiment which sailors are fond of making when such a shark is captured. The skull being preserved, they amuse themselves by crawling one after another through the distended jaws. It would be unsafe to do this, however, when the head has been freshly cut off, because under such conditions the jaws will snap together flercely for some time afterward it anything is placed between them. The skull of a big shark, by the way, is always salable owing to the demand by museums and curiosity hunters. A young sea lion weighing a hundred pounds has been found in the stomach of a white shark.

SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

MEDICINE.

It's curious what some people believe a medicine will do. They seem to think because I advertise my preparations I claim they will cure anything and every-thing. Well, I don't. The other day I got a letter from a woman who said her husband had been in bed eighteen years with paralysis. She had bought seven bottles of the Cooper medicines and her husband was still in bed. She stated that I was a scoundrel, a robber and various other pleasant things. Now the only thing I claim for Cooper's New Discovery is that it will put the stomach in working order. I know that if this is done, rheumatism, constipation, kidney and liver troubles, nervousness, and the general tired out, despondent feeling will disappear in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. I know this medicine to be a fine tonic which used twice a year will throw off impurities and add flesh, strength and tone to the entire system. But it waters. This frightful creature attains will not do the impossible. No medicine a length of nearly forty feet, and it is on earth will do more than help nature. Certain diseases are beyond all medicine, although God in his wisdom may some day give us frail humans a knowledge of how to cure them. At present I know Cooper's New Discovery to be as thoroughly efficient a medicine as was ever on the market, and people who will take it for the common ills to which flesh is beir will be more than satisfied.

Here is a letter from one who has tried: "For a long time I have suffered from severe headaches, weakness, and pains in my back and sides."

"Nothing I tried gave me relief, and a friend advised me to try your medicine. I improved from the first week. My backache and headache left me and I felt myself growing stronger. My appetite increased and I felt greatly improved in every way. I am indeed thankful for the benefit I have received." Miss Jennie Isaacson, No. 18 15th Avenue, West, Duluth, Minn.

were glad to pay something toward

Many people wonder why the cone shaped projectiles in their flight through the air do not wabble, but drive straight ahead. This is easily explained. Round the bottom of the shell is a narrow band of copper which varies in width according to the size of the projectile. Being made of soft metal, this band is cut by the steel rifling of the gun on the shock of explosion. This action causes the shell to revolve with lightning rapidity, with the result that it keeps steady during its flight through the air. - London

HUNTER'S NOVEL CUTING. Will Spend Summer Securing Moving

Pictures of Polar Game. To hunt the polar bear, the musk ox, the walrus and the caribou in the shadow of the north pole, not only with his rifle but with a moving picture machine as well, is the summer vacation planned by John R. Bradley, an amateur sportsman of New York city. He will soon depart to board his auxiliary schooner at Boston. Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former companion of Robert E. Peary, veteran of arctic and antarctic expeditions, will accom-

Mr. Bradley has hunted in every part of the word except the vast, unexplored territory of the arctic circle. He was in Mongolia last year seeking the long haired cave tiger. Before that he was in Tibet, where he obtained specimens of one of the rarest of mountain sheep pany him, says the New York Herald.

For his coming voyage Mr. Bradley has purchased a Gloucester fishing schooner, 118 feet over all, and installed in her a powerful engine. He has had her sheathed with three inch with officers and an ice pilot, and does not expect to return until the latter part of the year.

"We will go up the west coast of Greenland," said Mr. Bradley recently, "and hunt caribou for a time. From there we go to Melville bay, from where I expect to get polar bear all the way up to Smith sound, which is 78 degrees north latitude, or within eight degrees of the 'farthest north' reached by Peary. On the islands of the sound and the surrounding mainland we hope to strike the musk ox and, of course, the walrus. These will be particularly plentiful, I understand, in Baffin's bay. After that we will go south into Hudson bay, turning into Chesterfield inlet, if the ice permits, where we will be able to hunt in the Barren lands for musk ox.

"Of course I shall attempt to obtain good specimens of game, but one of the interesting features of the expedition will be the taking of moving pictures. I have used the camera largely in all my travels and had arranged to take a moving picture machine with me last year, but I could not get films in Paris. We hope now to photograph animals as they live and move.

"While I am hunting." continued Mr. Bradley, "Dr. Cook will be pursuing his studies of the Eskimo. He has made exhaustive studies of the tribes and will complete them this year. To him also the camera will be of great

"Our schooner will not go into the smaller bays and inlets, for the risk of getting caught in the new ice would be too great, so we have procured a twenty-five foot whaleboat and put in her a ten horsepower engine and on her a hooded cabin with accommodations for four men. Fic'd of Growing Grain to Be Installed. Ancient Sacrifices to the Goddess of the Harvest Will Be Reproduced During the Exposition-Statues of Corn.

A corn paradise is to be made of the Coliseum in Chicago during the National Corn exposition Oct. 5 to 19, according to plans which have been drawn for the decorations by A. P. Daniel, scenic artist, whose decoration consist of moving pictures, illustrated scheme has met with the approval of songs and refined specialty acts. An the committee in charge, says the Chi-

> A bewilderment of gay lights and colors will serve for a setting for the biggest and the most significant of corn shows. Money has not been spared to make the effect a delight to the eye, and careful study has been made of the subject, even history being delved into, to add instructive features of display. Thirty thousand dollars will be spent on this purpose alone.

The scheme has been worked out upon broad lines. The ceiling of the big hall will present an expanse of blue set with stars fifteen feet in diameter. The two ends of the hall have been given to the working out of special ideas. The south end will present the spectacle of a field of growing corn. There will be a windmill-typical of a farm in the great corn belt-a farmhouse, a corn crib and all the features that characterize the farm. Back of the cornfield will be a vista of hills and woods and a gold leaf sun twenty feet in diameter surmounting the horizon.

The opposite end of the hall is to depict the ancient ceremony of the corn sacrifice, when maideus offered up a portion of the season's yield to the goddess of the harvest. Encyclopedias and histories were searched for authentic data upon this point, and it was found that a similar custom existed alike in ancient Greece and in Peru and Mexico. The Grecians made their sacrifice to Ceres, the Mexicans to Cinteotl.

The stories of the sacrifice to the two mythological deities have been woven together for the corn exposition. and it is the plan to have the ceremony performed twice each day beneath a triumphal arch and with a scenic set ting of Grecian architecture by twenty girls dressed in corresponding costume. Garlands and festoons of corn are to adorn the ceiling and walls. Overhead there will be twelve clusters of eight lights each, a wreath of corn surrounding each cluster, and cables of corn inking them together. A feature planned in this connection is to have suspended papier mache ears of corn, six feet in length and made on the principle of a Japanese lantern, illuminated from within by electric lights. In the center of the hall, upon a platform elevated ten feet above the floor, is to be a statuary group made all of corn, representing a farmer driving a three horse team and a sulky plow. The figures are to be larger than life size. There is also to be a locomotive and a passenger car made of corn, and the high degree reached in the decorator's art is to be shown in life size portraits of President Roosevelt and

Vice President Fairbanks in corn. Corn and paper mache are the two materials that will predominate in the decorations. Three thousand dollars is to be expended for corn specially grown, and $4,000 will go for the purchase of papier mache. This will take the place of much of the plaster of paris work that has figured largely in previous shows. It is declared that ton of it will do more than twenty of plaster and produce better effects.

Corn of all sizes and colors has been contracted for to supply the decorative needs. All the Tom Thumb corn that can be produced will be purchased, and perfect ears, little over an inch long will be given away to visitors at the exposition for souvenirs.

People who are only familiar with the varieties of corn that present shades of green and yellow will be surprised by the information that corp in three or four shades of red is available for the decorator's uses, the brightest being a clear ruby, and that as many shades of blue can be obtained An abundance of browns and a deep black also can be grown. No dyes or pigments will be necessary in making the portraits of the president and vice president. The natural colors of corn

Apart from the decorations and features being provided for by the exposition management private exhibitors will provide attractive shows of their own. The nature of many of these will not appear until late, as there is rivalry for the prizes offered for fancy exhibits, but it is promised that many of them will cost the makers much more than the prizes they can obtain

Many thousand dollars, it is expected, will be spent by the exhibitors, and the grand total of decorative features. it is promised, will make the National Corn exposition a magnificent spectacle, quite apart from the educational aims of the undertaking.

Valley Forge

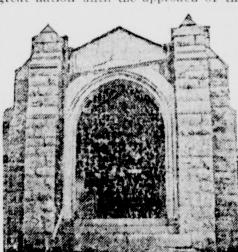

Scene of the Suffering of Washington's Army Now a Public Park - Memorial Church and New Cloister of the Colonies For Thirteen States. & & & &

ALLEY FORGE is now, 129 years after the event, a public park. The tradition that "every schoolboy" has heard of Valley Forge no doubt is founded upon fact, but it is apparent that the majority of schoolboys during the past thirteen decades have forgotten it shortly after hearing about it. It is a matter of record that a member of congress, in a speech on the floor of the house, once referred eloquently and touchingly to Valley Forge as "that famous battlefield of the Revolution."

In a certain sense the congressman was right. Valley Forge was a battlefield, though the agents of death were not the bullets of the British redcoats. Nakedness, hunger and disease, in conspiracy with a rigid season, killed several thousands of men in the American army during that winter of encampment in the Pennsylvania valley near Philadelphia. There was also a large list of men who might have been marked as "missing." These were the deserters, chiefly men of European birth, it must be admitted, whose desire for self preservation was stronger than their devotion to the American cause. Many who were American born deserted, too, and officers resigned their commissions and went home almost by battalions.

But it is to the lasting credit of American patriotism that the bulk of the army remained in camp-to starve to death, to freeze to death, to die of disease brought on by nakedness and hunger or to march away in the early summer, fall upon the British and follow them up until the final surrender of the latter at Yorktown.

Until the present generation Valley Forge was rather a vague name to the average youth. Middle aged men of today began to learn something about the great winter camp of Washington's army when the Centennial exhibition of 1876 disinterred this and other Revolutionary memories from the dust of a century's neglect. It is a remarkable fact that Valley Forge was utterly ignored and apparently forgotten by this great nation until the approach of the one hundredth anniversary of its evacuation June 19, 1878. Then some patriotic citizens bestirred themselves, there was a grand celebration at the site of the old camp, a brilliant young orator, Henry Armitt Brown of Philadelphia, delivered a memorable address, and Valley Forge was restored to the map of national veneration. It has required nearly thirty years to make the camp a public park, with the points of interest marked, the fortifications and some of the other structures restored and facilities for welcoming any pilgrim who may wish to visit the scene.

Washington's army spent exactly six months in camp at Valley Forge. Sadly worsted at the battle of the Brandywine in September and also defeated at Germantown still later, Washington marched his dispirited army to Valley Forge through a fierce snowstorm on the 19th of December, 1777. The storm was a foretaste of what was to come. That was an unusually severe winter. The soldiers were scantily clad when they arrived. In fact, it is literally true that hundreds of them left their traff in blood along the snowy roads as they marched to the place of encampment, which was suggested to General Washington by General Wayne; "Mad Anthony," whose home was but four miles away.

When the sufferings of that terrible winter ended the Americans left Valley Forge and fell upon the British army at Freehold, N. J., and fought the brilliant engagement known in history as the battle of Monmouth. From that time on until Lord Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, Va., the army which had gone through the awful ordeal of Valley Forge was victorious in nearly every fight.

The schoolboy of today may find at Valley Forge much to arouse his patriotism. One of the newer improvements is a memorial church built upon the spot where Washington knelt in prayer. An addition to this church is now building, called the Cloister of the Colonies, in which each of the thirteen original states is to place memorials to its brave men who suffered.

A Promise.

at Valley Forge in the cause of liberty.

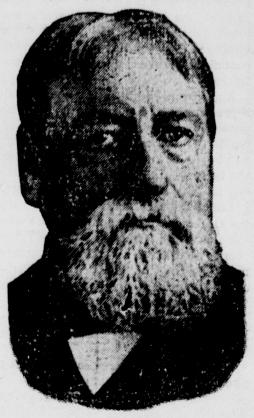

"Reginald, what is this I hear about your having been engaged in a fight with our new neighbor's little boy?" "Yes'm, I was."

"Now, I wish you to promise me that. you will never quarrel with him again. Will you make me that promise?" "Yes'm. He kin lick me."-Houston

A VETERAN JOURNALIST.

Crosby S. Noyes and His Jamestown Remarks on Roosevelt.

Crosby S. Noyes, editor of the Washington Star, was quite free in his criticism of President Roosevelt and alsostrong in his indorsement of Mr. Rooseveit's work as a whole in the speech bemade before the National Editorial association at the Jamestown exposition. He compared Captain John Smith somewhat humorously with President Roosevelt and said that the achievements of the former in planting and sustaining the colony at Jamestown were as worthy of glorification as those of the latter, but that Smith lacked the aid of the newspaper press which has so greatly helped Mr. Roosevelt in his efforts to accomplish things in the interest of the people. Mr. Noves gave-the president some rather hard digs in the course of his talk to the editors at Jamestown and concluded his address with the remark, "After all, Theodore Roosevelt is a good deal of a boy yet, as well as a most masterful president."

Mr. Noyes himself is one of the "old boys" in journalism, for he was doing reporting at Washington when Webster, Clay and Calhoun were the leading figures in congress. He celebrated his eighty-second birthday in February and is still active in his profession. He left his native state of Maine at twenty-two to become a Washington correspondent and in 1855 became a reporter on the Star. Twelve years later he acquired a financial interest in the paper, and since that time he has been its editor in chief. Just before he entered the employ of the Star he took a tramp on foot in Europe after the Bayard Taylor fashion and described his experiences in a series of letters to the Portland Transcript. He won a high reputation during the civil war by his energy in obtaining news from the field and his accuracy and tactfulness. He was one of the few newspaper men who enjoyed the confidence of the great war secretary, Stanton. In later times he has been active in furthering the plans for the beautification of Washington. The New England newspapers for which Mr. Noyes wrote sixty years ago paid him $1 a column for his correspondence. Washington correspondents of the present time would think that pretty small pay, but Mr. Noves at that time only paid $2.50 per week for his board and lodging, and it would be difficult to obtain any kind of accommodations in the capital for that sum now.

Statue of Famous Engineer For Trenton, N. J., by William Couper.

The first engineer of the famous Brooklyn bridge was John A. Roebling. He was also the builder of the first suspension bridge over the gorge of Niagara. He met with an accident in 1869 which caused his death, and his work as chief engineer of the Brooklyn bridge was continued by his son, Washington Roebling. The elder

THE ROEBLING STATUE.

Roebling was the founder of the big iron and steel construction works at Trenton, N. J., and in this way it comes about that a statue of him has been executed for erection at Trenton. It is the work of William Couper, who modeled the statue of Captain John Smith, recently sent to the foundry, which is to be erected in September on Jamestown Island, Virginia. The sculptor portrays Roebling in a seated attitude, and the pose is excellent, giving an impression of unusual strength and vigor.

ORIGINAL GOTHAM.

The Scheme by Which Its Inhabitants Fooled King John.

This name Gotham, was first applied to the city of Manhattan in a book of humorous sketches called "Salmagundi," written about 1807 by Washington Irving in collaboration with his brother Peter and the poet Paulding.

It was evidently intended to suggest that the people of New York made undue pretensions to wisdom, and that there were both satire and wit in the suggestion is shown by the story of

The old story tells how King John wished to pass through the parish, but the people there, fancying that the The most numerous and also the passage of the king over a route made arrived they found every one of the inhabitants employed in some peculiarly foolish task. Thus a group were joining hands around a thorn bush to with all his retinue, says the House-

After this Gotham came to have the reputation of being a sort of headquarters for conceited fools. In the time of Henry VIII. a book entitled "The Mer-Gotham," one of whose exploits was to go to sea in a bowl.

"A Tempest In a Teapot."

The expression "a tempest in a teapot" is one of great antiquity. Its first historic appearance is in the "De Legibus" of Cicero, who quotes it as a common saying, "Gratidius raised a tempest in a ladle, as the saying is." The French form, "Une tempete dans their paraphernalia is their sign, which une verre d'eau" (a tempest in a glass is a small live rabbit. The moment of water), was first applied to the disturbances in the Geneva republic near the end of the seventeenth century. In England the word "teapot" was subof the tricks have been done, some of stituted for the sake of alliteration. It which are admittedly more or less is said to have been popularized by Lord North, who employed it to characterize the outbreak of the American colonists against the tax on tea .- Boston Post.

The Careful Scot.

While enjoying a pleasant smoke in Welshman, if he could oblige him with a match and after some consideration reluctantly complied with the modest request. Placing the match upon the window ledge, the Welshman produced an empty pipe, and, gripping it between his teeth, gazed mournfully at his companion. This having no effect. he made an ostentatious and fruitless tour of his pockets. "Dear, dear, how unlucky I am!" he exclaimed at length. "I've left my tobacco at home." "Verra unfortunate," agreed the Scotchman, and, stretching out a hand for the match, he added with evident relief, 'An' now ye'll no require this 'vestie!"

-Glasgow Times.

It Was Frederick the Great's and Was Confiscated by Napoleon.

While Prussia was at his feet after the battle of Jena, Bonaparte visited Potsdam, and there he saw the sword of Frederick the Great. He took possession of it, saying, "I value this valides on May 17, 1807, with military pomp and ceremony, to the immense gratification of the people of Paris.

But there came the black days of 1814, and with the allies on the point of the guests, "that exactly at midof entering the French capital the governor of the Invalides, Marshal Serrurier, received orders to take steps ask for the key of a certain room, givfor the preservation of the precious ing the number, and get it." trophies there collected, especially the sword of Frederick the Great. Interpreting this instruction in a peculiar fashion, the governor took effective measures for preventing them from falling into the hands of the enemy by making a bonfire of them, and it was said that he threw Frederick's sword into the flames.

This statement was confirmed as late as 1857 by an eyewitness. Thus perished, as was attested in 1830, when an official inquiry was made into the matter, between 1,500 and 1,600 war flags and other memorials of victory. The ashes and remains were thrown into the Seine at the mouth of a sewer. The sword could not, of course, have been destroyed in the conflagration, leave the hotel at once. but it was never seen again. It happened that in 1815 an engineer, having ascertained the precise spot where the debris from the fire had been put into the river, made a search and recovered from the bottom a considerable number of bronze and copper articles which were returned to the Invalides. But the sword of Frederick was not found.

One would like to think that it was not the fate of this historic weapon to rust away in foul mud, but that it had undergone the noble transformation of being turned into some implement of peaceful industry. Of this, however, there is no evidence.-London News.

Americans Greatest of Travelers. Americans are rightfully called the greatest travelers in the world. They all seem imbued with the spirit of Columbus, and when we think of that venturer across strange waters in search of he knew not what we can scarcely associate him with any other country as a native than ours. It is a noticeable fact that in every resort of prominence in England and on the continent there are to be seen among the tourists during the season at least two Americans to every one representative of any other country, and in the African cities Americans are even more in predominance over travelers of other nationalities.-Leslie's Weekly.

The Biter Bit.

An old Lowlander had been persistently asked by his son, who was doing very well in London, to pay him a visit. Having at length decided to comply, he spent a fortnight in the metropolis and duly returned north to tell the tale. A pompous person invited him to his house soon after the old man's return, with a view to having some amusement at the latter's expense. "And what was it that most impressed you in the great city?" asked the pompous gentleman. "Weel, sir," quoth the old fellow, "the thing abene a' that impressed me maist was my ain insigneeficance. E. H. HARRIMAN ARRESTED

Railroad Magnate Violates Rule Prohibiting Spectators From Following Racers, Refuses to Heed Warnings and Is Arrested by Roosevelt's Aide.

New London, Conn., June 28.-Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a race on the Thames river the Yale crew, rowing on an average of four strokes to the minute less than Harvard held the big Cambridge eight even until the last half mile, when the blue let out their speed and won a magnificent contest by a scant boat length. Not once in the whole four miles did the long, graceful shells cease to lap each other. Thousands of persons aboard the observation trains and on every kind of floating craft and those who lined the shore sent cheer upon cheer to the old rivals as they fought out one of the grandest races in the history of boating.

Yale's time for the four miles was 21 minutes, 10 seconds; Harvard's time 21 minutes, 13 seconds.

The official time for the race fol-

The race was accompanied by one disagreeable incident. This was the arrest of E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, by Lieutenant Bulmer, President Roosevelt's naval aide. Lieutenant Bulmer, who was in charge of the revenue cutters, had warned every boat owner not to follow the race. The big varsity struggle had scarcely been started when Mr. Harriman in a powerful motor boat started to follow the race. Lieutenant Bulmer and Chairman Schweppe, who were aboard the regatta committee boat "Arrow," repeatedly warned Mr. Harriman to stop his engine and get out of the course.

Harriman Ignored Warnings.

Mr. Harriman not only paid no attention to them, but took a position right alongside of the referee's boat and held it. Off the navyyard Lieutenant Bulmer signalled for a launch and lines in the management of this strike tooted the revenue cutter whistle, which caused Mr. Harriman to look

You are under arrest, sir," shouted Lieutenant Bulmer, "You will give declare that everything is satisfactory yourself up to this man, who will take as far as the strike is concerned and you aboard the Gresham to await my that it is slowly simmering out.

Then it was discovered that the man in the powerful and speedy boat was Mr. Harriman. Chairman Schweppe man in terms which the latter could and velled back: "Young man, I will see you later."

Schweppe's friends aboard the "Arrow" gave Mr. Harriman a gentle laugh. Mr. Harriman saw no more of the race, but was detained as any ordinary prisoner aboard the Gresham until after the race was over, when Lieutenant Bulmer went aboard the Gresham and released Mr. Harriman, but ordered his boat tied up at the navyyard. The incident may cost Mr. Harriman a fine of $500. This was the penalty imposed on a yacht owner at last year's race for transgressing the rules governing the course.

The race was scheduled to be rowed at 1:30 o'clock but at that hour a stiff northwest breeze was blowing that would have swamped a racing shell. At 10:30 a. m., Referee William E. EVIDENCE IS ALL IN.

Trial of Former Judge Loving Nearing

Ita Conclusion. Houston, Va., June 28.-The taking of evidence in the case of Former placed on trial in the circuit court of Halifax county here last Monday morning for the murder of young Theodore Estes in Nelson county on April 22, has been concluded. The court adjourned for the day before the instructions to be given the jury were argued Thursday marked a most important turning point in the case, when Judge Barksdale rendered an opinion concerning the admissibility of certain evidence, the decision dealing a heavy blow to the plans of the prosecution. Attorney Daniel Harmon for the prosecution Wednesday announced his intention of introducing witnesses to show that the story told by Miss Elizabeth Loving to her father that she was drugged and assaulted by Theodore Estes was a fabrication and that Estes never offered any indignities to the girl, even suggesting that there might be another motive back of the killing. The defense objected to the introduction of such testimony on the ground that it had no bearing on the case and whether true of false had nothing to do with the question of the indignation of Judge Loving at the time of the tragedy. Judge Barksdale in a lengthy opinion Thursday sustained the contention of the defense and among the cases he cited as authority was the famous Thaw trial in New York.

After the opinion of Judge Barks dale had been rendered, the prosecution began the examination of a number of witnesses in rebuttal of the evidence introduced by the defense that Loving was insane at the time of the shooting. Several witnesses were examined and the tendency of their tes timony was that they had never heard the insanity of Judge Loving discussed before this trial and they had always regarded him as a sane man with a mind superior to the ordinary.

GUILTY OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Verdict in Case of St. Paul Theater Treasurer.

St. Paul, June 28.-After being out nearly forty-eight hours the jury in the case of Harry E. Ricker, former treasurer of the Metropolitan Opera House, returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of embezzling $3,035 belonging to the theater company. Accompanying the verdict of the jury was a strong plea for clemency in favor of the convicted man.

The state produced the books of the theater in evidence and attempted to show that there had been systematic juggling with the bank account in order to conceal a deficit which steadily grew in size between March 23 and April 27.

Ricker's defense was that two men held him up and took the money from him at the door of Manager Scott's office just as he was entering to place the money in the vault.

ACCUSED OF POISONING.

Former Chicago Clergyman Under Police Surveillance in London.

London, June 28 .- Walter Swinburn Hancock, formerly an Episcopalian clergyman of a fashionable church in Chicago, whom his bishop inhibited on account of scandals with women. is under police surveillance here. He is suspected of having poisoned his wife, who was the widow of Paul Townsend Jones of New York, allegations to that effect having been made in the Kensington coroner's court at an inquiry now being held.

Mrs. Hancock died on March 28, last, the cause of death being certified as appendicitis. Afterwards the body was exhumed on account of the suspicions of her son, who is a barrister. He testified at the inquest, intimating strongly that he thought Hancock poisoned his wife in order to obtain her property. Other witnesses testified that Mrs. Hancock had drawn a will giving everything to her son, but when she attempted to sign the document on her deathbed she collapsed.

The inquest was adjourned until July 11 for the purpose of having an analysis of the contents of the stomach made.

Meanwhile Hancock has been placed under nolice curveillance.

ANALYSIS OF ORCHARD

Man Charged With Killing Ex-Governor Steunenberg.

HAS AN UTTER LACK OF FEAR

Discusses His Own Death Most Calmly, Says Writer Who Shared His Cell. Believes In His Change of Purpose and Character-Quite Sane.

An analysis of Harry Orchard, who is the confessed murderer of ex-Governor Steunenberg of Idaho and many other men and who is the chief witness for the prosecution in the case of Idaho against Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone, charged with planning these murders, has been made by George Kibbee Turner. Acting for McClure's Magazine, he obtained permission to spend two weeks in the cell with the prisoner.

Writing of his impressions, he says: "The first emotion on seeing Harry Orchard is invariably astonishment. This is the confessed assassin of eighteen men. In appearance he is like nothing so much as your milkman-the round headed, ruddy faced, sandy mustached milkman, with his good natured diffidence, breaking easily into an ingenuous smile.

"A year and a half ago, when he was first arrested, this man was clearly one of the most dangerous characters our civilization can produce. His face showed this more accurately than words. It possessed the characteristics of a clearly developed type-the nervous eyes, the compressed lips and the hardened face muscles of the hunted beast we call the criminal. Immediately after his arrest Orchard reached the great determining crisis in his life.

"It is no permanent amusement to be hunted beast, whatsoever may be the individual theory concerning the criminal. His face showed that. There was more than defiance and cunning about the muscles of that mouth; there was pain. On his arrest for the murder of Governor Steunenberg, Orchard believed that if he would keep silence he could never be convicted. But his career had come to a culmination.

"Under the suggestion of the master detective, McParland, he eased his tortured mind by confession, fell over from sheer weakness and staggered back to his cell for his first sleep in over a week. Under the sympathy of Dean Hinks of Boise, a man's man and one of the noblest and most devoted Christian characters alive, he returned to the simple faith of his childhood. In eighteen months the deep marks cut in his face by the last decade of his life have gone like an evil mask.

"It is difficult to believe in a transformation of this kind. The men who saw Orchard most, professional handlers of criminals, declined at first to do so. Gradually they have become convinced. No promises of clemency have been made to the man. He has P. S. girls will pay attention to pro turned to the task of assisting the state with the same unhesitating directness which made him the surest murderer of a generation. And every one who has seen him closely is now absolutely convinced of his sincerity.

"He has impressed me, as he has practically every one who has observed him, with three things-his absolute and level sanity, his extraordinary and detailed candor and his utter vacancy of fear.

"The man is about five feet seven, wide forehead, short nose, bright blue eyes that kindle quickly into a smile and a mouth with possibilities of both humor and tenderness, though when closed in the pictures of the time before he put on his mustache it lies across his face like the straight gash of a knife.

"It is a wanton waste of good American time to discuss the question of Orchard's sanity, whoever or whatever was responsible for raising it. He is sane to the point of bleakness. It is a mind direct, practical, concrete, absolutely devoid of imagination. It is this last quality which accounts for the man's utter lack of fear.

"This man was from the first-from his varied and resourceful ventures in business and his burning of his factory down to his readiness in exploding mines and transforming human beings into a pile of bleeding jelly-shrewd, self reliant, direct. He is without the imid imagination of the ordinary man. These matters simply do not present themselves to him in terms of horror. He discusses his own death and preparations for it as impersonally as he would a problem in arithmetic.

"Harry Orchard is an uneducated man. He has small power of generalization. But for the concrete he has a mind that is a marvel of accuracy. His memory has the sensitiveness and retentiveness of a child's. It is a camera which catches and holds every arrested detail of the actual scene with all the fidelity of the photograph.

"There is no question with those who are the intimate associates of Harry Orchard of the sincerity of his change of purpose and of character. They believe unreservedly that this man, under the influence of a simple and unquestioning faith, has turned from a career Broky, a town in Eastern Galicia, of hideous crime to an unqualified destates that fourteen Cossacks crossed votion to truth, and upon this faith in the frontier into Austria. They his sincerity has been placed, first of plundered a house and killed the all, the carrying foundation for the weight of one of the greatest criminal cases ever tried in the United States."

FUEL FOR SEA FIGHTERS.

Government Experts Will Test Effi ciency of New Smokeless Coal.

Tests of a superior fuel which it is thought may enable any United States war vessel to overtake or outfoot an enemy, as may be desired, will be begun on a number of fighting vessels at Hampton Roads as soon as the United States geological survey plant at Norfolk, Va., for testing government fuels is completed, says the Washington Government experts not only hope to demonstrate that this fuel has more efficiency than any other coal, but also expect that it will be practically smokeless, which is perhaps as big a factor as its efficiency.

Recently Admiral Robley D. Evans complained of the use of soft coal on war vessels, declaring that the smoke which it emits gives unmistakable indication of the approach of a ship before the hull is in sight. He further said that if the furnaces are forced to get up top speed flame will belch from the stacks and even at night betray the movements of a single vessel or a fleet. This second cause, he says, nearly spoiled Admiral Dewey's plan for the invasion of Manila bay. The admiral's remedy is for the government to obtain exclusive control of the anthracite deposits of the country, which is not considered practicable

Recent tests carried on by the government indicate that a fuel made from slack coal pressed into briquettes not only burns almost without smoke, but also evaporates more steam and produces more power under the boilers than does the same amount of coal.

These briquettes are made by taking the waste or slack coal from mines and mixing it with sufficient tar so that the coal will hold together, the whole being pressed into blocks or cakes by machinery.

An elaborate series of tests will commence within a short time, and if they prove as successful as those at the old fuel testing plant at St. Louis, Mo., every cruiser and battleship in the navy will be carrying briquettes, at least as an emergency fuel.

NO POOR MEN FOR THEM.

Society of Indiana Maidens Insist on Husbands With at Least $4,000.

Young women in Columbia, Jasonville and Hymera, in the state of Indiana, have formed what they call the "Young Ladies' Protective societies" and plan to establish branches all over the state, says a Columbia special dispatch to the New York World.

The members will insist on knowing how prospective husbands are fixed financially and will refuse to be courted by young men who cannot furnish a satisfactory rating.

The young man who would woo a member of the society must furnish documentary proof that he has goods and chattels to the value of $2,000 and carries a life insurance policy for at least $2,000. With $2,000 in available assets and $2,000 in futures the Y. L. posals.

The promoters of the organization say they have observed that the most frequent cause of unhappy marriages is poverty.

TAFT'S $2.65 BREAKFAST.

Light on the Cause of the War Secretary's Indigestion.

Here is what Secretary Taft, returning east from his western trip, ate for breakfast at the Union station in St. Louis the other day, says a St. Louis special to the New York World:

Cantaloupe. Sirloin steak. Boiled eggs. Saute potatoes. Dry toast. Coffee.

As the Union station is not an expensive eating place, the secretary of war must have eaten large portions, as his bill was $2.65. He handed the waiter $3 and told him to keep the change.

The price of the meal would indicate that Mr. Taft has either recovered from the spell of indigestion that floored him in the north the other day or that there is no occasion to wonder he suffers from the malady.

Minnesota's Wolves Expensive.

The state auditor's office recently paid bounty claims in Minnesota on 1,021 full grown wolves and 951 cubs. The amount paid out was $9,721.59, and in this fiscal year about $30,000 has been paid out on such claims, says the Minneapolis Journal. Marshall county made the biggest showing with $1,620 paid, and claims for $132.50 from Hennepin county were honored. The present bounty is $7.50 for grown wolves and $3 for cubs.
